CITY OF Springfield

What's in it for you?

In addition to having positions available on 28 standing boards and commissions, the City of Springfield and partner organizations have thousands of ways to get involved in the community. Give a little of your time to a project that sparks your interest. Or dedicate your life to furthering the mission of a cause you feel strongly about. Either way, you can make a difference and grow in the process!

Springfield has

28 Boards & Commissions...

Where does

your voice

fit in?

5 reasons why you should get involved:

- #5 Volunteers gain valuable professional experience and personal growth.
- #4 Volunteering strengthens our community and saves our resources
- #3 Volunteering encourages civic responsibility – it makes our government more effective
- #2 Volunteering brings people together – uniting people from diverse backgrounds to share ideas and work together
- #1 Volunteers like you make a big difference in Springfield.
This is your chance to give back!

From our volunteers:

“ Service on the Art Museum Board means a contribution to the quality of life for Springfield both now and hopefully for the future. It is a way of sharing what others have taught me.”

- Sally Scheid

“ There is a lot of talent at the City of Springfield that has been unmatched in any other organization that I have worked with. The experience was invaluable and provided me with a different perspective than what I traditionally learned in the classroom.”

- Scott Turk,
Recent MSU graduate
